My only comments on the 5/22 draft of the BDAC recommendation are as follows:

1 The second bullet on page 7 was to refer among others to "the three Delta Water Agencies" and the California Central Valley Flood Control Association and the San Joaquin River Flood Control Association."

2 A previously agreed final sentence was apparently inadvertently omitted at the bottom of page 8. It read "The upper end of the range would maintain this level of water for consumptive use on a per capita basis over time as the population grows".

I assume these corrections will be made, and I will be happy to be listed as being in agreement with the recommendations.
